

Indane Gas

Safety Requirements

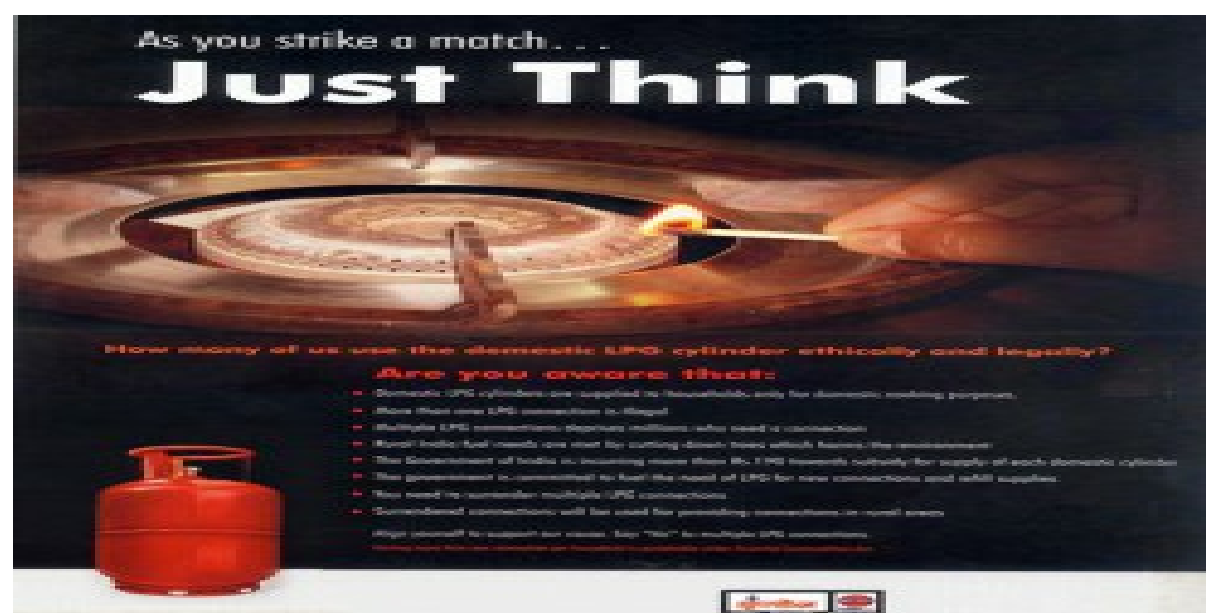

The following safety tips will be helpful for the Indane Gas user:

At the Time of Buying LPG Cylinders:

LPG Cylinders are to be bought from the IOCL authorized distributors only.

At the time of delivery of cylinder :

It must be ensured that the seal of the cylinder is intact and it should be opened only in presence of the Consumer.

When Cooking in the Gas Stove Using LPG:

Good ventilation must be ensured by keeping the kitchen windows open

Never to place or allow any inflammable item near the stove or near the flame

While dealing with the frying pan, its handle must be kept away from the flame

The one who cooks should never be away from the cooking point, like wise the cook should never allow any liquid item overflow while cooking.

Maintaining LPG Cylinder

The regulator valve of the LPG cylinder must always be kept closed, except at the time of cooking, particularly at night times the house holder should ensure closing it before going to bed.

LPG Cylinder indane gas agency must be kept in upright position, no inflammable material kept close to it, and never to keep in the kitchen not more than one cylinder

Periodic check of gas leak must be done, with the help of soap solution, which would show up with bubbles if there were leaks and never check the stove when it is in flame.

Only distributor supplied regulators and hoses with ISI marks must be used, as most of the accidents have happened because of gas leakage through hoses.

It must be ensured that all the parts of installation are in good condition and if there be any doubt the distributor should be approached for help.

Never ever the LPG Cylinder should be tampered.
